What have you learned from these results? What does the data tell you?
Overall, the results tell us that students self-report that they are learning a great exy202n

What is at least one change your program has implemented in recent years as a result of assessment data?

We continue to “close the loop” on past assessment work. Past analyses of assessment data were used to inform recent curricular changes, some of which were made to directly influence student learning in LO3 (e.g., adding ORLD 5550 Consulting Skills). Another example was the new writing-focused orientation we implemented to improve student achievement of LO2.

Furthermore, based on this data we intend to make additional changes to improve student learning in each LO. For example, the data suggests that the program is doing quite well on 6 Tm0 g0 r
